House Un-American Activities Committee Called 'Most Vital'

By JAY THORWALDSON

The House Committee on Un-American activities is "the most vital" of the 26 committees to come out of Washington, Karl Prussion, communist for 26 years and FBI informant for nine, said last night to a near-capacity crowd in the Concert hall of the Music building. Prussion's speech on "Communism and the American Youth" was accompanied by a controversial film of the San Francisco "riots" of last May protesting the Committee's hearings in the City hall.

CLEANED 'PIG PEN'

Under the auspices of Gavel and Rostrum, campus speech organization, Prussion told of his personal experiences while a member of the Communist party in the United States. He noted that the House Committee has a "dirty job cleaning up a dirty pig pen."

Mimeographed literature describing alleged "distortions" in the film, and copies of the J. Edgar Hoover report on the "Communist strategy and tactics" during the San Francisco "riots" were handed out at the door by SJS students and Don Cornish, member of the Free Men Against Communism organization, supporting Prussion's appearances.

TASC REBUKED

The sheets depicting "distortions" in the film were originally to be handed out officially by TASC, campus political party, members, Frank Cieciorka, member, said. But, he said, TASC received a letter this afternoon from Brent Davis, ASB executive secretary, stating that no ASB recognized organization may distribute literature unless approved by the Student Activities Board under the threat of loss of campus recognition. "I am assuming full personal responsibility," Cieciorka stated.

The film, titled "Operation Abolition" and produced from newsreel film of the student demonstrations by the public relations department of the Un-American Activities Committee, depicted alleged communist participation in and direction of the May 12-24 demonstrations.

At one point during the film, when the narrator was describing how a student "jumped a barrier and tried to grab a policeman's nightstick," a member of the audience exclaimed "Let's see it!"

Nixon, Kennedy Cover New Ground on Fourth Telecast

Presidential hopefuls Sen. John Kennedy and Vice President Richard Nixon faced the nation over television for the third time last night, before what was believed to be the largest "audience" of all time.

The candidates were asked questions by newsmen on national and international issues. On the issues brought up, the nominees' views were, in part, as follows:

Quemoy, Matsu, Formosa
Nixon: An attack on the islands would be a "prelude to an attack on Formosa," and the U.S. would honor the treaty with Formosa.

Kennedy: "We must meet our commitment to Formosa . . . but those islands (Quemoy and Matsu) aren't worth the bones of Americans."

Economic Growth
Kennedy: Maintained that the

Organizations Must Fulfill Requirements

All ASB-recognized organizations received notice Monday from Miss Janet Douglas, associate dean of students, that they must fulfill two requirements in order to keep their recognition.

Dean Douglas called for all groups to attend the Student Activities board organizational meeting on Wednesday at 7 p.m. in TH55. She further reminded that revised lists of officers must be turned in to the activities office, Adm242, by today.

SJS Greeks Collect $600 For Charity

A total of $600 was collected by 120 volunteer workers from SJS fraternities and sororities for the United Fund drive Tuesday.

According to Gwen Jorgensen of the Activities office, the Greeks were augmented by a group of volunteers from the Student Nurses association.

Houses represented in the drive were: Alpha Tau Omega, Pi Kappa Alpha, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Phi, Chi Omega, Delta Gamma, Delta Zeta, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Phi Mu, and Sigma Kappa.

Deadline Tuesday To Apply for AWS Chairmen Positions

Applications for Associated Women Students committee chairmen will be accepted until Tuesday, according to Penny Patch, publicity chairman.

Offices to be filled are: Christmas door decoration chairman, student-faculty chairman, March Melodies chairman and community service chairman.

Applicants must have a clear standing and a 2.0 grade point average. March Melodies chairman must be a junior or a senior.

Applications are available at the Student Union or the Student Activities office.

SJ Leaders See Change Downtown

Ramifications of the master plan to revitalize the San Jose downtown were presented to city leaders yesterday in the Civic auditorium.

"The plan makes special point of not separating the college from downtown San Jose," said Larry Livingston, co-owner of one of two firms which were contracted to prepare the plan.

Fourth st. will be part of a loop of freeways surrounding the downtown core. Santa Clara st. to San Salvador st. will be depressed and four parking garages will be built over the right of way.

"These garages will not be expected to solve the college parking problem, however," said Livingston. "The state already has plans to build two garages that will house 4000 cars, he said.

Another of the features in the plan that could possibly affect SJS students is an apartment area that is planned south of Park st. and east of Vine st.

"Married students or students sharing apartments would be interested in this area because of its location," stated Livingston.

The 25-year-plan is broken down into four stages. Completion of the Fourth st. freeway is scheduled in the 1979-84 period. The plan, if adopted as it was presented yesterday, would cost the city $7,170,000.

107 More Deaths So Far In 1960 Say Highway Cops

The California Highway Patrol has released figures showing an increase of 107 traffic fatalities for the first nine months of this year as compared to the same period last year.

Traffic deaths total 2664 as of Sept. 30 according to Bradford M. Crittenden CHP Commissioner. He pointed out that vehicle registration has also increased, however speeding, drunk drivers and improper turns still remain in the primary causes of most accidents.

The school year has so far remained free of traffic fatalities involving SJS students. However, last year a total of six students and two staff members from SJS were killed in auto accidents.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES Richard Nixon and John Kennedy discuss political issues following the second of four TV debates held last week. On the third debate last night the candidates cited their views on topics not previously covered on the telecasts.

Clubs Plan Allen-Kennon Political Talk

The Young Republicans and the Young Democrats will co-sponsor a debate between the two candidates for the post of Assemblyman for the 29th district.

Bruce Allen, the Republican candidate and incumbent, and Jack Kennon, the Democratic candidate have agreed to meet each other Monday at 12:30 p.m. in the Inner Quad to discuss major state and local issues, according to spokesmen for the YRs and YDs.

All students have been invited to watch the debate which will probably include the question of budgets for state colleges, an issue which has recently been prominent in local news.

Council Votes $350 Donation For Homecoming Queen Float

The Student Council Wednesday voted a donation of $350 toward the construction of a float this year to be made especially for San Jose State's homecoming queen and attendants.

The royal float, first in SJS history, will be made by the Associated Independent Students, according to AIS President Barney Goldstein.

"Preliminary sketches are being drawn up by Bert Swanson," Goldstein said, "and will probably be available by Monday night's meeting of the AIS."

The AIS was approached recently with the idea of building the royal float and a gathering of nearly 200 Independents voted the

Foreign Service Talk Set Tonight

Foreign Service officer Lewis D. Brown will speak to students interested in the work of the U.S. State Department today at 2:30 p.m. in E118.

Now serving on the Bureau of European Affairs in Washington D.C., Mr. Brown is past economic officer to Leopoldville and has served both as a political and economic officer in Canada and Paris, France.

His talk will be timely as applications for the Foreign Service Exam are due Oct. 24 with the examination scheduled for Dec. 10 in 65 cities across the United States.

Arrangements for his campus visit were made by Dr. S. Laird Swagert, professor of political science and Dr. Edward Clements, student placement director.

Foundation Drive Zips Over $15,000

The Spartan Foundation has passed the $15,000 mark, as of Oct. 1, in its 1960 drive for funds, reports Bill Hubbard, professor of physical education.

The foundation will continue to collect donations to aid SJS clubs and organizations through December, in its 1960 campaign. A goal of $20,000 has been set for this year.

Discussion Sunday By Episcopal Group

The Rev. B. J. Clark will join a discussion by the Episcopal supper group Sunday at 6:45 p.m. in the Christian center, 300 S. 10th st., reports Barbara E. Arnold.

The Rev. Clark is rector of the Church of the Transfiguration in San Mateo.

"Which Side of the Puzzle Are You?" a question relating to the Christian faith, is the discussion topic.

Cards Rate Slight Edge Over State

By GARY PALMER
Asst. Sports Editor

A grid rivalry that dates back to the turn of the century resumes tomorrow at Palo Alto when Coach Bob Titchenal's Spartans clash head-on with Jack Curtice' Indians at 1:30 p.m. in mammoth Stanford stadium with its 90,000 seating capacity.

No one expects the huge bowl to be anywhere near filled, but it's a safe bet the 25 or 30,000 fans who do show up will see an aerial show, second only to a Fourth of July fireworks display, when Dick Norman of the Indians and Mike Jones and Chon Gallegos of the Spartans begin to cut loose.

POSSIBLE FREE-FOR-ALL

The game looms as a repetition of last year's wild and wooly free-for-all that finally went to the Indians, 54-38.

Stanford, with one of its poorer teams, will not be heavily favored, despite the 33-0 pasting suffered by the Spartans at the hands of Oregon last week.

Titchenal hopes to write the Duck tilt off the book as, "a bad day," by staging an upset over the Tribe that has lost only once to San Jose in 16 games between the two schools.

WITHOUT A WIN

Making the Indians all the more dangerous tomorrow is the fact that the Palo Altians have been unable to crack the win col in this year, and to lose to the Spartans would only add insult to injury.

Dick Norman, the nation's leading passer last season, has been unable to generate a sustained passing attack, in part due to his own inaccuracies and in part due to a lack of top caliber receivers.

Halfback Mac Wylie, who has been on the Stanford injury list since early in the season, has been given the go ahead and should be of considerable help in both the Stanford ground and aerial game.

FACE IS STANDOUT

Skip Face, the Tribe's all-around fullback, is one of the best in the nation and considered an important cog in the Indians' running game.

Stanford will be minus the services of tackle and co-captain, Dean Hinshaw, halfback Tim Hanel, center Doug Pursell and several others, all shelved with injuries.

San Jose has been more fortunate in the "physical fitness" column. Only end Gene Badgley and fullback Ken Taylor are on the injury list. Badgley is still hobbling with a banged up knee and Taylor, who hurt his knee on the first play of the Brigham Young game, has dropped football for the season to save his eligibility for next year.

If the Spartans, whose running game sputtered and fizzled to a minus 29 yards against Oregon, can move the ball on the ground, the Indians will have a double threat to contend with.

'Moby Dick' Tonight

Herman Melville's classic, "Moby Dick," will be presented tonight at the Friday Flicks in Morris Dailey auditorium at 7:30. The show is open to students and the public. Admission is 25 cents.

LEGISLATORS listen sharply as Dr. James Enoch, of Los Angeles, describes how his school cuts educational cost almost in half with television. The state subcommittee on educational television met on campus in FO104 yesterday. Back of head belongs to assemblyman John Collier.

TV Boon to Education, Say Hearing Witnesses

Dr. Richard B. Lewis, head of the SJS audio-visual department, told a state assembly subcommittee meeting here yesterday that the college expects to begin a massive program in educational television next year.

Dr. Lewis was one of 12 witnesses to appear before the assembly Ways and Means subcommittee on education television, headed by Charles Conrad of Hollywood.

EFFECTIVE PRACTICAL

The subcommittee, meeting in FO104 during most of the morning and afternoon, was told almost unanimously by educators from nine of the state colleges and UCLA that television in or out of the classroom is effective, practical and a "means of upgrading society" as well as the student.

It has worked so well at SJS, Dr. Lewis told the assemblymen, that "We are going to put 200 students from English A on a television basis, that is, on a part-time basis, as well as half the expected 1200 lower division enrollment in Health and Hygiene 11, and 500 students from the audio-visual department."

Dr. James Enoch, of Los Angeles state college, cited figures from the school's own television program that seemed to indicate the program was cheaper than regular classes. "Then we're saving," commented legislator, John Collier, who had sharply questioned Dr. Enoch on the costs of the two-unit presentation. Costs appeared to be cut about in half.

20,000 VIEWERS

It was assemblyman Collier who made the comment on "upgrading our society," after hearing Dr. Hector Lee of Chico state college relate that his school's program outdrew "I Love Lucy" by about 1000 viewers in a morning session. "We had an audience of 20,000 besides our students."

The only objection of the program, Dr. Dallas Tueller of Fresno state college told the subcommittee, comes from the professors themselves.

"We haven't been able to entice a professor to go through the (television) process a second time. Possibly because we don't pay them extra and there is about 30 hours a week of exacting preparation."

SJS and the 'Core Plan'

The proposed "face-lifting" of the downtown area was formally presented yesterday to city leaders.

A special effort was made by the planners to keep the college from being separated from the core of the city.

The report pointed out that the approximately 15,000 students and 1350 faculty and staff of SJS provide the downtown stores with an extremely good source of customers.

The fact that we do pour a great amount of income into the area should be brought more into the light. No one single group of people feasibly contributes more to the community—culturally or economically.

For this reason, it appears that the students should be given more consideration by the city officials and the downtown merchants. There are many ways we can help each other.

The parking meters, for example, on Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, and Seventh sts. serve no real purpose other than to provide the city fund with small change and one dollar parking fines from students who couldn't make it back in time.

The college and the students could reciprocate by making more cultural events open to the public at little or no cost or working in closer harmony on city good will or educational projects.

The way the fraternities and sororities pitched in on the "Happy Hollow" project is an example of the cooperation the college can come forth with. Over 200 man hours were donated by the various fraternities. Sororities sewed flags that will be used in the park. The greek went out of their way to help the "Happy Hollow" ball get rolling.

These ideas are only scratching the surface in an area that is beneficial to all. What we need are leaders, organization, and ideas but most of all the realization by the community that we are not here "to be tolerated."

Many are the articles one reads these days condemning the presence of women in our colleges more appropriately titled, perhaps, "College Is Wasted on Women."

Whoa, there! I don't think education can be wasted on anyone. Of course, if we evaluate education in the hard terms of its economic worth, then it might seem foolish to provide women with degrees they may never use... at least, not to the extent of their masculine competitors in the business and professional world.

So what? So what if Betty Coed drops out of basket-weaving in her junior year and marries some bright young lawyer? At least when he is confronted with her lovely pin-curl face over the breakfast table, she can talk about basket-weaving, instead of the Perry Como show or some other public pabulum.

So what if campus is the happy hunting ground for husband-hungry coeds? As a bachelor (yet) I would rather be hunted by a gal with some brains and education than by some charming, witless blot. For the sake of the kids, at least.

Oh yes, the kids. Not all the job of bringing them up can be shoved onto the nurseries and public schools. Mama swings plenty of weight in this department, and if she is a benighted, prejudiced, unenlightened hausfrau, very likely her daughters and sons will follow in her plodding footsteps.

Worse yet, she'll probably band together with more of her friends in some meddling woman's club, to propagate her foggy views even further.

In these days of a high-priced standard of living, few husbands will object to a little help with the bills. Education and professional training will make her paycheck considerably fatter.

As for women's job opportunities, they will follow the widening pattern of the past 40 years. As we males continue losing our prejudices against the gentler sex, women can justifiably enter any field they darn well please.

Remember the war years, when Rosie the Riveter launched Liberty ships? Women can do nearly any job men can, with the usual obvious exceptions.

As for keeping women from our crowded colleges just so some muddling thud-in-the-mud male can creep by the entrance exams, this is ridiculous.

I'm for lowering the admission requirements for women and raising them for men in the hopes a more educated entourage of femmes are available for the male, and that, as a result, the family of the future may be better prepared to meet the world's problems. Bring 'em on.

Campus Instructional TV Broadcasts Two Weekend Shows on Channel 11

Two KNTV telecasts this weekend will originate from the Instructional Television Center on the San Jose State campus. Robert M. Diamond, coordinator of the ITV, said today.

As part of the college's "Perspective" program, Dr. Herbert H. Sanders, professor of ceramic art, will narrate the first SJS telecast at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The ceramic art program will cover some of the steps in ceramic making including pinch potting, coil building and biscuit firing.

In the other program this weekend, "Explorations" will be an audio-visual presentation of another art form: the use of materials such as bulletin boards and flannel boards for teaching aides. It will be sent from ITV on campus via microwave to KNTV at 10 a.m. Sunday.

To Effect an Affect? Or Is It?

Editor: In his letter of Oct. 11, Roy Davis, physical education major, asks, "How does two hours of physical education per week effect man's vitality?" I am not sure if P.E. will indeed effect his vitality, although I might agree with the conjecture that it possibly could affect it. Apparently concentration on sports as the best means for obtaining the democratic citizen leaves no time for acquiring familiarity with the usage of the King's English.

'Drop Chain' Barrier Says Eating Student

Editor: I would like to take this space to express my feelings against the "picket line" placed in the cafeteria.

It would appear that this chain is an attempt to keep us independents and non-dorm personnel from making use of three-fourths of the cafeteria until mid-morning. As I sit here writing this, I am amazed to notice that each person entering the cafeteria this morning is, according to where he sits, from the dwellings of the "dorm people."

Why don't you simply drop the chain and save us of the independent and fraternity and sorority groups from having to bend over in order to find a seat in the cafeteria which suits our individual tastes.

Nation's College Enrollment May Double in Ten Years

By ED RAPOPORT
Feature Editor

San Jose State, now the 25th largest college in the nation, may see its present enrollment of more than 15,000 almost double by 1970—if the present nationwide trend to public higher education continues unabated.

It is predicted by Time magazine in its current issue that the number of college students who jammed U.S. campuses this fall will increase in 1970 to nearly twice the present enrolled 3,567,000.

In a report on higher education in California, the magazine specifically cites the state's bulging needs for higher educational institutions.

YRs To Sponsor Nixon Supporter

The SJS Young Republicans will sponsor a campus speech by Mrs. Jewel Rogers who seconded the nomination of Richard Nixon for president at the recent Republican national convention.

Mrs. Rogers, who holds the post of deputy U.S. attorney in Illinois, will speak in the Inner Quad Tuesday at 12:30 p.m., according to Liz Stone, president of the Young Republicans.

In addition to SJS students, invitations have been extended to members of the Young Republicans groups of Santa Clara university, Stanford university, and the University of California.

Young Demos Help Form State Slate

The Young Democrats, youngest of the two campus political organizations, was officially recognized in February of this year, but has moved into this year's presidential campaign with the determination of a veteran political group.

Headed by President Robert Crittenden, the YDs, who meet on the first and third Wednesday of each month have actively aided the local Democratic headquarters in doing precinct work, telephone campaigning, mailing of campaign literature, and any other of the many tasks involved in getting candidates on their way to hoped-for offices.

Since their inception, the YDs also have been active outside the local political scene by sending representatives to various conventions. In February they attended a Democratic state convention in Fresno to hear the three leading contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination give their views. Also at that time they assisted in drawing up the California Democratic party platform.

The campus YDs, who number 40 members, are also associated with an auxiliary group called the Spartans for Kennedy, which is composed of students who support Senator Kennedy regardless of party affiliation. The latter group has been especially active in the campus campaign for Kennedy.

Activities Board Plans Interviews

Student Activities Board members will meet today at 2:30 p.m. in the Student Activities office, ADM242, to interview candidates for a student government bulletin board managerial position, according to Chairman Brent Davis.

Current SAB members include: Anita Segador, recording secretary; Sharon Dee Forsell, corresponding secretary; Gary Olimpia, ASB attorney; Dennis Chambers, bulletin board manager; Steve Frohling and Pat Clark, representatives-at-large.

SJS Frosh Tangle With Tribe Papooses

By PETE SHAW

Feathers could fly tomorrow morning in Stanford Stadium when the revamped San Jose State freshmen wage a football war against the Stanford Papooses in the 10:30 a.m. preliminary to the Spartan-Indian main event.

Stanford is expected to greet the Spartababes with one of its finest frosh elevens in recent years. But the San Jose delegation is also representative of one of SJS' best yearling crops.

Chances are good the contest won't be decided early. Stanford has a trio of outstanding prep quarterbacks and will probably rely heavily on an aerial game, while San Jose claims a fleet of swift backs and a passing attack that could give the Papooses fits if it should jell.

According to reports from the Farm, Papoose mentor Dan Stavely is having trouble deciding who will start for his club in its curtain-raiser.

Stanford is reportedly blessed with three teams of players with relatively equal ability.

One of the Papoose guard slots is already sewed up, however, by one Marv Harris, a 6-0, 200 pounder who's already being compared with the likes of Bruno Banducci and Paul Wiggin.

Old Reds are lauding Harris in this manner, even though the prep star has yet to perform in a college game.

Co-captain Walter Roberts will open at quarterback. Tom Cousey gets the starting nod at posts will offer themselves as targets for the San Jose aerial attack which has Curtice and Co. worried at the Indian reservation.

FIFTH IN NATION

After last week, San Jose ranked fifth in the nation in passing with 172 yards per game. In direct contrast, the Spartan defense has only given up an average of 50 yards a game to opposing aerial attacks.

This statistic, alone, will offer a challenge to the "golden arm" of Norman, who last year threw for nearly 300 yards against the Spartans.

When the two teams take the field at 1:30 tomorrow, past failures will be forgotten as coaches Titchenal and Curtice make every effort to come up with the winning combination. San Jose's only victory in the series was a 19-14 triumph in 1954.

WHAT TO DO TILL THE PSYCHIATRIST COMES

Once upon a time at the University of Virginia there was a coed named, oddly enough, Virginia University who was handsome and kindly and intelligent and ingeniously constructed and majoring in psychology. Virginia went steady with a young man on campus named, oddly enough, Oddly Enough who was supple and fair and lithe and animated and majoring in physics. Virginia and Oddly enjoyed a romance that was as idyllic as a summer day, as placid as a millpond. Never did they fight—never, never, never!—because Virginia, who was majoring in psychology, did not believe in fighting. "Fighting," she often said, "settles nothing. The scientific way is to look calmly for the cause of the friction."

So whenever she and Oddly were on the verge of a quarrel, she used to whip out a series of ink blot tests and they would discover the true underlying cause of their dispute and deal with it in an enlightened, dispassionate manner. Then, the irritant removed, their romance would resume its tranquil, serene, unruffled course.

After six months of this sedate liaison, Oddly was so bored he could spit. He loved Virginia well enough, but he also believed that people in love ought to fight now and then. "It opens the pores," he said. "And besides, it's so much fun making up afterwards."

But Virginia would not be provoked into a quarrel. One night Oddly tried very hard. "Hey," he said to her, "your nose looks like a banana, and your ears look like radar antenna, and your face looks like a pan of worms."

"My goodness, we're hostile tonight!" said Virginia cheerfully and whipped 120 Rorschach cards out of her reticule. "Come," she said, "let us examine your psychic apparatus."

Oddly tried again. "You're fat and dumb and disagreeable," he said, "and you'll be bald before you're thirty."

"Humm," said Virginia thoughtfully and lit a cigarette. "This sounds like an anxiety neurosis with totemism, anagogic trauma, and a belt in the back."

"I hate you," said Oddly. "I hate your looks and your clothes and your toenails and your relatives and the cigarettes you smoke."

"Now, hold on, buster!" cried Virginia, her eyes crackling, her color mounting, her nostrils aflame. "Just keep a civil tongue in your stupid head when you talk about Marlboro! Nobody's knocking that filter, that flavor, that pack or flip-top box while there's breath in my body! It's a full-flavored smoke, it's a doozy, it's a dilly, it's a gas—and anybody who says a word against it gets this."

By "this" Virginia meant a series of combinations to the head and liver, which she now delivered to Oddly and turned on her heel and stormed away.

Oddly brought her down with a flying tackle. "I love you with all my heart," he said.

"And Marlboro?" said she.

"And Marlboro even more," said he.

And they kissed and plaited love knots in one another's hair and were married at Whitsuntide and smoked happily ever after.

You too can smoke happily—with Marlboro, or with Marlboro's unfiltered companion cigarette, Philip Morris—available in regular size or the sensational new king size Commander. Have a Commander—welcome aboard!

Bucs Win Series, Edge Yanks, 10-9

DANNY'S DANDYS—Winning World Series manager Danny Murtaugh can thank these three stars for their key roles in bringing the baseball championship to Pittsburgh for the first time in 35 years. Crafty relief ace Elroy Face (left), although knocked around in yesterday's finale, "saved" three of the Pirates' four wins with some excellent clutch hurling. Second baseman Bill Mazeroski (center) won yesterday's decider with a ninth inning lead-off homer, knocked in two runs in the Bucs' 3-2 fourth game triumph, and hit a two-run blast to help win the opening game. Sneaky southpaw Harvey Haddix (right), won two games for the National League champs including the seventh game in relief.

Mazeroski's Homer Does It As A.L. Champs Blow Lead

By LEO H. PETERSEN, UPI Sports Editor
PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Pirates won their first World Series in 35 years today when they defeated the New York Yankees, 10-9, on Bill Mazeroski's ninth-inning home run in the seventh and deciding game.

Mazeroski's home run on the first pitch thrown by right-hander Ralph Terry in the ninth climaxed one of the most dramatic games in World Series history.

A three-run homer by catcher Hal Smith of Pittsburgh highlighted a five-run eighth-inning rally which had given the Pirates a 9-7 lead before a crowd of 36,683 at Forbes Field.

YANK COMEBACK

However, the Yankees rallied to tie the score at 9-9 in the top of the ninth on singles by Bobby Richardson, pinch-hitter Dale Long and Mickey Mantle.

Mazeroski then decided matters in the last of the ninth with one swing of his bat.

This was Pittsburgh's first world baseball championship since 1925 when the Pirates beat the Washington Senators in seven games.

Slab Star

UNSCORED UPON—Whitey Ford, diminutive Yankee pitcher, was the only New York pitcher able to completely stymie the pesky world champion Pirates. Ford pitched 18 scoreless innings behind blistering, 10-0, 12-0, Yankee attacks to pick up a pair of victories.

foul fly but Mantle kept the rally alive with a single off shortstop Dick Groat's glove, scoring Richardson.

Berra then hit his home run.

SHANTZ WEAKENS
Bobby Shantz, the Yankees' tiny left-hander, relieved Bill Stafford at the start of the third inning.

He weakened in the eighth and was removed in favor of right-hander Jim Coates, who yielded Smith's home run with two men on base.

That put the Pirates ahead, 9-7, only to have the Yankees come fighting back to tie the score.

Harvey Haddix, the little left-hander who was the Pirates' fourth pitcher in the game, was credited with the victory.

SPARTAN DAILY—5

SJS Constant Underdog

Tribe Claims 15-1 Margin Since 1900

By NICK PETERS, Sports Editor

About the only thing the Spartans will have going for them in their game with Stanford tomorrow is the law of averages, as SJS grid teams have dropped 15 of 16 decisions to their Palo Alto neighbors since 1900.

If past scores are indicative the "Big Red" should trample the Spartans — averaging 36.3 points in the 16 previous battles as compared to the locals' 10.3.

What is the reason for Stanford's supremacy?

Ex-Spartan football coach Bob Bronzan (1950-56) believes "that the Indians always play a good game against State."

"Even when Stanford has a poor record," he said, "it's always an offensive threat with its top-notch passing attack."

Bronzan, who was the winning coach in the Spartans' lone triumph over the Tribe (19-14 in '54), attributed that victory "to the fine play of QB Tony Teresa.

Charlie Hardy, and Tom Louderback" — all presently vying for the Oakland Raiders.

Stanford Director of Athletics Chuck Taylor, coach of the Indians that season, attributed the defeat "to an over-all bad year on our part."

A 26-20 loss in 1948 and a 33-16 setback in 1950, along with the '54 win, rank as the top Spartan performances against the Indians, according to Bronzan.

In 1950 Spartan backfield coach Gene Menges, then the SJS quarterback, combined with end Billy Wilson for an 80-yard touchdown, which still stands as a State passing record.

Last year's clash resulted in an offensive orgy, as the Tribe scalped SJS by a 54-38 count.

There is every indication that another high-scoring battle is in the making tomorrow. If the law of averages holds out the Spartans may come out on the top end.

Jones-Norman Pass Duel To Highlight Tribe Tilt

In what promises to be an outstanding air show, Spartan quarterback Mike Jones locks horns with Stanford's flinging field general Dick Norman tomorrow on the Indians' home field.

Norman, slightly off his record-shattering 1959 pace with All-American Chris Burford as the prime target, doesn't have any consistent receivers to pull in his tosses this season.

As a result, the Indian QB has had seven passes intercepted while completing only 44 per cent of his aeriels thus far this season.

Jones, on the other hand, has made good on 58 per cent of his '60 aeriels with only one opposing theft.

All-purpose back Skip Face is another major Indian threat. He's the Big Five's top receiver (12), fourth in rushing (6.4 avg.), fifth in scoring (16), seventh in punting (37.8), and eighth in total offense (144 yards).

Harriers Open Season at Stanford

Ronnie Davis, who clipped off the best time in the intra-class cross-country meet will carry the Spartan hopes when Bud Winter takes his thinclads to Palo Alto today for the season opener with the Indian distance men.

Dan Landers, who finished second to Davis, is also being counted on to boost the locals to a win over the Tribe.

Other top contenders for the Spartans are Horace Whitehead, Ralph Dykes, Alan Anetsky and Ben Tucker.

All but Tucker were within a minute's time of each other over the gruelling three mile course in the intra-class meet.

Booters Try Cal Aggies at Davis

Julie Menendez takes his soccer team to Davis tomorrow, in hopes of kicking up a storm against the Cal Aggies.

The Spartan booters, who lost their Northern California Inter-collegiate soccer conference opener to Stanford at Palo Alto last weekend, 5-1, are gunning for their second win of the season. The first came in a practice game against the University of Santa Clara.

The Aggies got off to a fast start in the NCISC with a 6-0 blank of San Francisco state, but are not highly regarded in the loop.

Abdul Mashal, Tony Zanatto and Jerry Koopman will lead the assault on the Aggie goal and will have help from Gordie Stroud and Joe Battaglini.

Model U.N. Signup Starts; SJS To Represent Belgium

Signup will begin Monday for San Jose State students interested in participating in the SJS delegation this spring to the Model United Nations meeting, Dr. Raymond F. Stanley, associate professor of geography, announced today.

Students should place applications with Dr. Stanley in his office, CH229.

San Jose State will represent the country of Belgium at the mock U.N. meeting to be held at the University of Oregon at Eugene, Dr. Stanley said.

92 REPRESENTATIVES

Manuel Olivarez, a member of last year's delegation and co-chairman with Sam Obregon for the 1961 meeting said "The 92 countries of the United Nations are represented at the mock U.N. by colleges from the western section of the United States."

"It is a wonderful opportunity for a student to participate in the Model U.N. because it will give him insight to the real happenings at the world assemblies and he will appreciate more the work done in the real United Nations."

Last year the SJS delegation represented Lebanon in the mock U.N. held at the University of California campus in Berkeley. The SJS group was chosen as chairman of the important Afro-Asian bloc and was instrumental in seeing that several of the section's resolutions were passed by the "general assembly."

EXTREME CHALLENGE

Olivarez said the SJS delegates will be facing an extreme challenge in representing Belgium because of the recent flare-ups in the Congo. "These items won't be settled by spring," Olivarez said, "and we're going to have to relate and defend Belgium's colonial policies."

Students who are selected for the delegation by a screening board will receive one unit of credit for the expenses-paid trip.

A one-hour weekly session will be held during the spring semester to discuss latest developments within Belgium and the United Nations and for the various students to present their research findings.

Students do not have to be political science or law majors to participate in the Model United Nations.
